

Going Green

The Hulk

- Jake Brock
 - Notes
 - Business Plan
 - Writing Newspaper Article
- Robert Hines
 - Power Point Presentation
 - Research
 - Communication director
- Isaiah Mann
 - Research
 - Phone calls
 - Brochure
- Sabrina and Samantha
 - Research
 - Three-fold Poster
 - Recycling transports

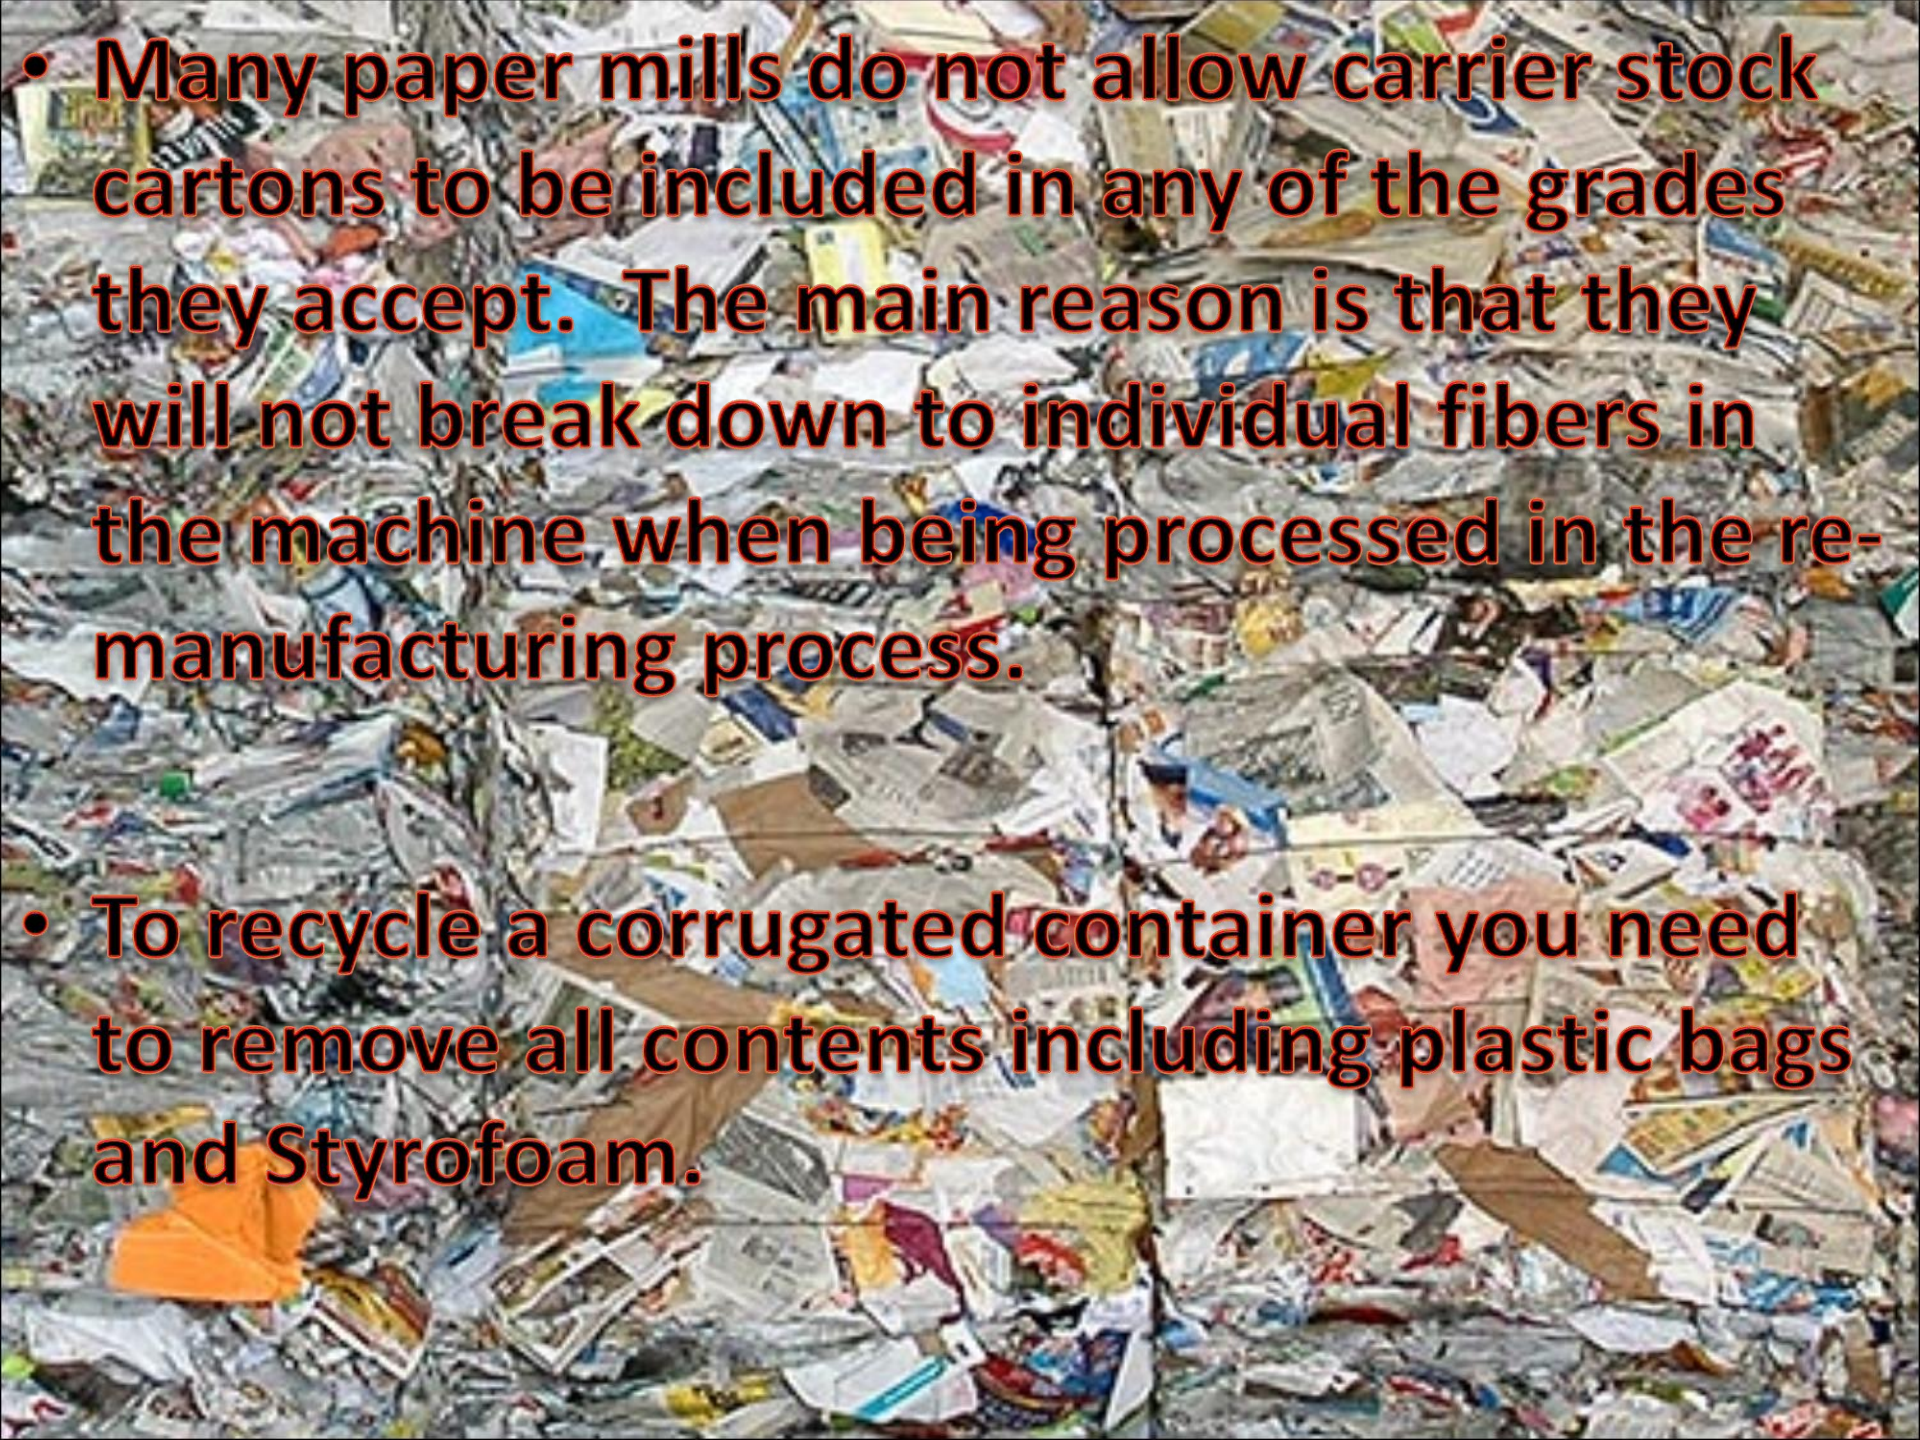

Team Hulk

- Our goal is to get other businesses in Meade County to recycle wasted paper or cardboard.
- We were able to get the following businesses to go with our recycling project:
 - Huddle House
 - Home Plate
 - Doe Valley Express
 - Dollar Land
 - Perna`s Place
- With the help of the recycling center, we were able to provide businesses with recycling bins.

- There was so much garbage in the rubbish landfill in Shenzhen it collapsed.
- 25% of Americans in the United States do not recycle.

-
- The background of the slide is a dense, chaotic pile of shredded paper and cardboard. The pieces are in various sizes and colors, including white, yellow, and brown, representing the raw material for paper recycling.
- Many paper mills do not allow carrier stock cartons to be included in any of the grades they accept. The main reason is that they will not break down to individual fibers in the machine when being processed in the re-manufacturing process.
 - To recycle a corrugated container you need to remove all contents including plastic bags and Styrofoam.

- Boxboard or chipboard is often confused with cardboard because of its shared usage and similar general form.
- Boxboard is usually grayish in color when you tear it and look at the inner layer.
- Boxboard is considered a lesser quality paper and should not be mixed with corrugated cardboard.
- Do not recycle cardboard that has mold. Other problems could arise if the cardboard was sitting outside.

- Boxboard is recyclable, but if it is the primary material your business generates it needs to be kept separate because it has limited use.
- Depending on the volume that is produced, a vendor will supply containers that are serviced one time to several times per week by compactor trucks.
- Almost all paper mills use old cardboard as their feedstock when making craft paper which is used to make corrugated cardboard.

We encourage every body to recycle cardboard and paper to make the world a better place to live.

